

LABORIS is a division of Ti.Pi.Ci. - Technology in Protective Coatings.

LABORIS decided, although not officially qualified to operate according to CEI UNI EN ISO/IEC 17025 (General requirements for the competence of testing and calibration laboratories)

LABORIS provides to the companies operating in the corrosion and anticorrosion industrial area a broad spectrum of qualified services thanks to the allocation of various equipment and expert advice highly accredited.

The wide range of activities from LABORIS is supported by a simple, fast and effective organizational system: it results from reliable technologies and analysis conducted by experts in the field for the solution of the problems identified.

LABORIS's laboratory occupies a new, large industrial area in the peripheral area of Genoa, at Arenzano, logistically suitable for eventual expansion of the business.

LABORIS division is equipped with an ATEX Class II Cat. 2 Type G plant in compliance with the ATEX Directive 94/9/EC.